DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-8, in the reply filed on 10-24-05 is acknowledged.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 7, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ruger et al (5,741,996).

Ruger et al anticipates the claimed firearm with a cam block 30 having a front area with surfaces that anticipate the claimed "flange surfaces", camming projections 32b and 34c on the cam block, a guide rod 15r connected to the cam block, bearing surfaces of the pistol frame which contact the cam block, a rear chamber block with front 26 and rear 28 projections. It is also noted that the bottom flange surface anticipates the claimed "curved bottom flange surface" since it has a geometric surface with a curvature equal to a zero value, which contacts a complimentary surface of the frame.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Cominoli (5,456,645).

Cominoli anticipates the claimed firearm where elements 24 and/or 30 anticipate the claimed structure of the "camblock", since flanges project on the front of the elements and it is connected to the rear of a guide rod 18. Note that the U-shaped surface 36 corresponds to a rail member contacting the lateral extensions of elements 24 and 30, and the bottom surface of 24 and 30 is curved and contacts a complimentary surface of the pistol frame. See Figures 1 and 7.

Art Unit: 3641

5. Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
